The amendment filed 15 April 2004 has been received and entered. Claims 1, 4, 11, 14 and 18 have been amended and claims 19-25 have been canceled. New claims 27-39 have been added. Claims 1-18 and 26-39 are pending to which the following grounds of rejection are or remain applicable.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 15 April 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The rejection made in the paper mailed 15 January 2004 under 35 U.S.C. §103(A) over Aebisher et al is maintained and hereby repeated for the reasons set forth in the previous office action and those set forth below.

Aebisher et al. teach alleviation of movement disorders associated with Parkinson's and Huntington's diseases comprising administering GABA, GABA agonists and GABA potentiators via implantation of devices which would release said neuroinhibitory compounds into the brain, including the brain nuclei of the subthalamic nucleus, the globus pallidus internus, the substantia nigra pars reticulata, substantia nigra pars compacta, ventrolateral thalamic nucleus and the striatum (column 3, lines 40-67). Applicant has claimed an effective amount of the compound gamma-aminobutyramide, analogs, substituted forms, derivatives, the pharmaceutically acceptable salts, esters, amides and prodrugs thereof. This broad claim language would include the GABA, GABA agonists and GABA potentiators of Aebisher et al.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-3, 5-13 and 15-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claims contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Applicant has amended the application and added the proviso that the compound is not [ $\alpha$ -(chloro-4'phenyl) fluoro-5' hydroxyl-2-benzylidene-amino]-4-butyramide. There is insufficient basis in the instant specification to support this proviso. See MPEP 2173.05(i) Any negative limitation or exclusionary proviso must have basis in the original disclosure. If alternative elements are positively recited in the specification, they may be explicitly excluded in the claims. See In re Johnson, 558 F.2d 1008, 1019, 194 USPQ 187, 196 (CCPA 1977) ("[the] specification, having described the whole, necessarily described the part remaining."). See also Ex parte Grasselli, 231 USPQ 393 (Bd. App. 1983), aff'd mem., 738 F.2d 453 (Fed. Cir. 1984). The mere absence of a positive recitation is not basis for an exclusion.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 1614

Claims 1-18 and 26-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bergmann, Clinical Neuropharmacology 1985 (IDS from 1/14/04 document AB).

Bergmann teaches Progabide is metabolized to  $\alpha$  chloro-4'phenyl fluoro-5 hydroxy-2-benzylidene amino 4 butanoate sodium and then to GABAamide. The metabolite and GABA appear in the circulation and in the brain in a few minutes after administration (see pages 13-14). The compound is employed to treat spasticity (page 19) epilepsy and convulsions (pages 17-19) and Parkinson's disease (spastic hypertonia) (pages 20-21). It differs in that the instant application has dependent claims drawn to intrathecal administration, intraventricular administration, by an implantable pump and a spinal catheter for delivery of said prodrugs/derivatives of gamma aminobutyramide. It would have been made obvious to one of ordinary skill in art at the time it was made to administer prodrugs/derivatives of gamma aminobutyramide intrathecally, intraventricularly, by an implantable pump or a spinal catheter motivated by the teaching of Bergmann that gastric-resistant formulations of progabide have been shown to result in incomplete absorption and lower serum levels. As anyone of ordinary skill in the art will appreciate modes of administration are art-recognized result-effective variables and it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to optimize them from the teachings of the prior art. Since the gastric-resistant formulations result in incomplete absorption, it would have been obvious to administer the compound by parenteral means.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
